

18 DAYS FROM TO-DAY

And the Biggest Battle Ever Waged in This Part of the State Comes to a Close And the Victors Will Be Awarded.

OH GEE! But there are going to be six happy folks on that auspicious date.

YOU HAVE TIME YET to win. It's up to you to get busy quick. Do it now.

ARE YOU SELLING COUPON BOOKS? Just think of it, with every two dollar coupon book you sell you are given 400 votes, or 2 votes for every penny. Can't you see what this means to you?

DON'T GIVE UP, put your shoulder to the wheel. Your reward is close at hand and a little effort right now may mean that you will be lined up with the winners when the final curtain falls on Aug. 12th.

WATCH YOUR CORNERS And don't let the other fellow slip up on you. There are some foxy ones in the race and they are selling coupon books right along. Don't let the other fellows sell more books than you.

CALL AT FORBES MAIN OFFICE And get your coupon books to-day. Don't put it off for another minute. The time is so close now that every moment counts.

EVERYTHING IN SHIP SHAPE For the closing on Aug. 12th, of the grandest and most successful contests ever pulled off in this country. We are highly pleased at the manner in which our contests have been taken by the public in general and wish each and every contestant success in the end.

Trade With Forbes. Help Your Favorite To Win.

FORBES MFG. CO.

Incorporated.

MEN IN MIND IN HOPKINSVILLE

Prominent Factors in The Busy Life of the Pearl City.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH NO. 103.

Energetic and Efficient Head Man of the Metcalfe Steam Laundry.

WILL M. TERRY.

The subject of our sketch this time is a native of Muhlenberg county, but he has been here since early childhood and to all intents and purposes is to the manor born.

Will M. Terry was born in Greer, Ky., March 4, 1881, and came with his parents to Hopkinsville in 1884. His first recollections are of Hopkinsville and when he reached the school age he was educated in the excellent city schools. His first employment was in that busy hive of industry, Metcalfe's Steam Laundry, of which Mr. Terry is now the general manager. He started at the bottom and learned the laundry business from the ground up and has never made a change in eighteen years, except to make one upward step after another in the business in which he saw such great possibilities. At that time it was comparatively new in Hopkinsville, but it grew with the town and Mr. Terry grew with the business. In 1914, Mr. Thos. L. Metcalfe retired from active management of that branch of his big plant, and nothing was more appropriate than that he should place Mr. Terry in full charge of a business he had done so much to help develop.

The laundry has continued to grow and now does French dry cleaning, pressing and a variety of special lines of work. It has established agencies all over this part of Kentucky and at many points in Tennessee, Alabama and Mississippi. The prices have always been reasonable and with the war prices prevailing in every line of trade, and increases in all of its supplies, the Metcalfe Laundry is still doing business on the old schedule of rates.

The plant has shown a steady growth under Mr. Terry's wise management and now employs more than fifty people and with strong competition is on a more substantial and prosperous basis than it has been at any time since it was established 26 years ago.

Mr. Terry is a quiet, unassuming, painstaking young man, possessing fine executive ability and the rare faculty of satisfying an exacting public.

In October 1912 he was married to Miss Mabel Wilkey, of Dixon, Ky. They have one little daughter and live in a comfortable home at 410 South Walnut street. Mr. Terry is a member of the Masonic and Elks lodges.

THE KAISER'S ORATORY.

"Another speech by Emperor William during his recent visit to the Somme front is being discussed in Berlin. The Emperor said:

"Comrades: It is your especial privilege to fight against the English, which means that you are fighting against a nation that has sworn to destroy Germany. The English built up during the years before the war the combination of countries which at a given signal fell upon us, attacked us, the most peaceful and peace-desiring people in the world. The English led us to believe they were our friends when they were actually plotting our destruction."

"English diplomacy brought about the war and now an English offensive is intended to carry the operations to German soil, into our towns and villages, to the peril and undoing of our helpless women and children. Your duty is to break the English offensive; to prove once more that Germany is invincible, and reduce to despair the relentless enemies of our country so that they will sue for peace on terms honorable and profitable to Germany."

DIED ON TRAIN

D. E. Barbee Was One Of Little Rock's Most Prominent Citizens.

Little Rock, Ark., July 24.—The remains of D. E. Barbee, the well known Little Rock business man who died at Higgins Switch, near this city, late this evening, while being brought home from Pine Bluff, were taken to Ruebel's undertaking establishment to be prepared for burial. The accident occurred one mile this side of Pine Bluff, and with Mr. Barbee when the train struck his car were his eleven-year-old son Will and an automobile demonstrator from Pine Bluff. Realizing his great danger, Mr. Barbee threw his son out of the car a moment before the accident occurred and the son escaped unhurt.

The demonstrator remained in the car and escaped injury, it is said. Both of Mr. Barbee's legs were amputated by the collision, and besides he suffered internal injuries. The train bearing him to Little Rock was six miles from the city when he died.

Mr. Barbee was a member of the Voss-Barbee Manufacturing Company and was one of Little Rock's most prominent citizens. He was 56 years of age and is survived by his widow and three children. Two of his young sons are now ill of typhoid fever. Mrs. Barbee was formerly Miss Annie May Lowery, daughter of Rev. John P. Lowery, a Methodist avangelist.

The accident occurred at the point where the railroad crosses the Dollar-way turnpike to Memphis. Negro men and women who witnessed the collision state that the auto was going north on the road at a fast pace and that it ran into the baggage car of the train while the train was crossing the road. The train stopped at once, and Mr. Barbee and his companion were taken aboard and carried to Little Rock.

Simple Dressing for Wounds.

The extended hospital practice of several surgeons has shown that a simple dressing of castor oil is most excellent for abrasions, bruises and contusions, and for incised and lacerated wounds and burns and scalds. The part is first thoroughly washed with a warm antiseptic lotion, and then an oil-soaked piece of lint, or a pad of sterile gauze, is applied directly to the injury. Over this is placed a piece of rubber tissue, or of paraffine paper, and the whole wrapped with an ordinary bandage. Healing generally follows by first intention, and there is hardly ever any suppuration.

Lexington Fair.

The best Hereford cattle show in the State will be seen at the Blue Grass Fair August 7 to 12. The management has increased the premium list to $1,000, which is practically as much as is given at the State Fair. This will attract breeders from adjoining States as well as bring out all the crack herds of Kentucky.

A pound of common sense to each ounce of learning is about right.

DR. BEAZLEY
Specialist

Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat.

Twelve Governors.

The State Journal gives this list of some of the great men buried in the cemetery at Frankfort:

Governors Christopher Greenup, Charles Scott, George Madison, John Adair, James T. Morehead, John J. Crittenden, Robert P. Letcher, Charles S. Morehead, Luke P. Blackburn, William O. Bradley, Simon Bolivar Buckner, William Goebel.

United States Senators John Brown, John Adair, W. T. Barry, Isham Talbot, Martin D. Hardin, James T. Morehead, Richard M. Johnson, John J. Crittenden, William Lindsay, W. O. Bradley.

Chief Justices Harry Innis, Thomas Todd, Alvin Duvall, Caswell Bennett, William Lindsay.

Poor Pa!

Tommy—"Do you go to bed very early Mrs. Graymare?" Mrs. Graymare—"Yes, Tommy, sometimes—when I feel tired." Tommy—"You wouldn't go so early if you were married to my pa, would you?" Mrs. G.—"Oh, Tommy, you funny boy, why not?" Tommy—"Cos my pa told my ma that if he were your husband he'd make you sit up!"

Times Have Changed.

"The cave-dweller would seize a woman by the hair and drag her to his home," commented the best man at the wedding. "Yes," replied Miss Cayenne. "In those days hair was more natural and furnished a reliable grip."—Washington Star.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children

In Use For Over 30 Years

Always bears the Signature of Dr. H. H. H. H.

FILL YOUR COAL HOUSE NOW BEFORE THE PRICE ADVANCES ST. BERNARD DIAMOND

The Best Coal On The Market.

PAUL WINN

Phone No. 158

7th and L. & N. R. R.